DRUG AND VIOLENCE FREE AMBASSADOR SCHOLARS GRADUATION

On behalf of the Black Caucus Foundation of Michigan, we hope that this Program taught you the importance of making positive healthy decisions and community service.

The Black Caucus Foundation of Michigan works in partnership with many organizations to provide learning opportunities for youth and adults to achieve academic excellence.

We offer a hearty congratulations to all of our graduating students for your dedication, hard work, and persistence. It is wonderful to honor you at the culmination of this educational experience.

We know how important it is to increase the numbers of well-educated African Americans who will provide leadership and service locally, throughout the state, and beyond. We look forward to hearing about your future accomplishments.

As you celebrate with family, friends, and loved ones, please take this opportunity to reflect on the challenges you have encountered, the triumphs you have achieved, and the success you have earned as a Drug & Violence Free graduate.

Please accept our very best wishes for a bright and rewarding future.

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations on successfully completing the Drug and Violence-Free Ambassador Program! This remarkable achievement is not only a reflection of your dedication and discipline, but also a powerful testament to your commitment to making positive choices and building a brighter, healthier future.

By participating in this program, you have taken an important step toward becoming leaders and role models in your communities. You have shown that you have the strength to stand up for what is right, the courage to say no to negative influences, and the vision to create a safer, more supportive environment for those around you.

The lessons you have learned—about integrity, responsibility, and the value of a drug- and violence-free lifestyle—will serve as guiding principles throughout your journey. As ambassadors, you now carry the torch of change, with the ability to inspire others, uplift your peers, and be a voice for positive action.

I am genuinely excited to see the unique paths each of you will take and the meaningful impact you will make in your schools, neighborhoods, and beyond. Always remember that your choices matter and that your example can light the way for others.

Wishing you continued success, growth, and fulfillment in all that you do. Keep striving, keep leading, and keep believing in the power of a better tomorrow.

Dear Black Caucus Foundation of Michigan,

It is my distinct honor to congratulate the graduating class of this year's Navigation to Success program and to commend the Black Caucus Foundation of Michigan for its steadfast commitment to uplifting our youth.

Through this program, students from across Detroit are given not only the tools to succeed, but also the confidence and mentorship needed to make positive, lifelong decisions. Your work is helping to shape the next generation of leaders, scholars, and changemakers, and that is something we should all celebrate.

The Black Caucus Foundation of Michigan has long stood as a pillar of strength and vision in our community. Your efforts to empower and educate are deeply appreciated and critically needed. Programs like these are not only changing individual lives, but also strengthening entire neighborhoods across our city.

Thank you for your continued leadership, compassion, and dedication. You are making a lasting difference, and the City of Detroit stands with you in support and gratitude.

With deepest appreciation and warmest congratulations,

Sincerely,

BLACK CAUCUS FOUNDATION OF MICHIGAN HISTORY

Founding Board Members: Atty. Richard White, Jack Martin, Rep. Alma Stallworth, Don Davis, and Dr. Charles Tucker

Founded by the Honorable Alma G. Stallworth during her tenure in the Michigan Legislature while serving as Chair of the Michigan Legislative Black Caucus; the Foundation was established as a 501-c3 tax exempt organization dedicated to the creation and delivery of service programs which improve the economic circumstances and quality of life for Michigan's African American citizenry.

The Foundation's creation evolved from a segment of social-economic and political history which continues to frame the advancement of Black America. At the base of this history was the understanding of a cross section of Black leaders that intellectual resources were needed to support research dedicated to the development and implementation of public policy initiatives critical to the well-being of Black people in America and around the globe.

Prior to 1983, when James J. Blanchard was elected Michigan Governor and Gary Owen was elected Speaker to the Michigan House of Representatives, the only African American staffers at the State Capitol were those working in the offices of Black legislators. During this time there were no African American policy analysts serving on the central policy staffs of the Michigan House or Senate; and with limited exception, only a meager number worked in State agencies, departments or in private sector governmental affairs capacities. Without policy perspectives developed specifically by African Americans; African American legislators, the legislature as a whole and the Executive Branch were limited in both policy perspective and resolution options regarding the challenges facing Michigan's African American community.

In 1984, Representative Stallworth, Senator David Holmes and Senator Jackie Vaughn, III with the assistance of KB Stallworth, a marketing & syndication executive for Scott & Fetzer Corp; and Steve Zimmerman, a senior partner in the law firm of Dykema Gossett; convened a meeting with a cross section of Michigan's most successful and respected African Americans to formulate plans for what was to be the newly formed Black Caucus Foundation of Michigan. Among them was Jack Martin, the principle of the most successful African American accounting firm in Michigan; and Dr Karl Gregory, an economist and professor who had successfully created two African American owned financial institutions; Dr. Charles Tucker, one of the nation's most successful sports agents and psychologists; Atty. Richard White, a principle from one of the nation's most respected African American law firms; and Don Davis, a renowned music producer and song writer who was also the principle shareholder of Michigan's only African American owned bank.

In 1985, these individuals, working in collaboration with the Michigan Legislative Black Caucus, organized the Black Caucus Foundation of Michigan's Legislative Internship Program to serve as a feeder system for African Americans interested in the pursuit of public policy related careers in state government. The program would also serve as a "front-line" research program charged with developing solutions to public policy inequities that affected the black communities of Michigan.

Revolutionary in its design, the internship program provided 12 academic credits to minority students recruited from Michigan State, Wayne State and the University of Michigan for one academic quarter of governmental affairs service, and/or submission of a policy paper (with collaboration of a Black legislator) detailing solutions to an issue adversely impacting African Americans. State policies regarding the use of minority contractors, goals of minority procurement, lottery contract expenditure distribution, auto insurance, public and private sector African American appointments, tax reversion, adolescent teen pregnancy, drug and smoking prevention are issues that have all been impacted by Foundation initiatives stimulated by the Intern Program Research.

Today, the Foundation's internship model has been replicated in university systems throughout the nation. Its success in the 1980's has opened the doors for governmental affairs occupations for African American professionals in the legislature, executive branch, fiscal agencies, state departments, and private sector. Now, more than twenty years later, the challenge continues for the Foundation to serve as a critical intellectual link between Michigan policy makers, business leaders, service organizations and the community. There remains a need to frame, refocus and remind decision makers of the critical need for "vertical integration" of African Americans throughout the public policy process to ensure fair and equitable treatment. Nothing exemplifies this need better than the current absence of a single African American in the Capitol Press Corps during a time when media coverage of black experiences and perspectives are essential to improved race relations and equitably addressing Michigan's social and economic woes.

The Foundation is dedicated to the development and implementation of programs and initiatives that effectively address issues such as these. Critical to these endeavors will be continued efforts to educate decision makers, both White and Black, to Michigan's African American political history and advocacy for the vertical integration of minorities into business and government operations for future generations to come.

ZSA ZSA

Zsa Zsa C. Hubbard is the biggest personality in the business!

In the true form of self-made business-woman, she uses her immense persona to meet a need and edify the community in her own way. As a born and raised Detroit native, Zsa Zsa's natural inclination to hustle has earned her the marquee of an entrepreneur at-large, owning and operating as CEO of multiple businesses. Zsa Zsa is currently using her voice (and her SPECS Howard degree in Broadcast Media) to engage and educate as an internet radio talk show host.

Zsa Zsa also used her innate business savvy and connectivity to form the Hubbard Resource Group—a business hub that offers consulting and non-profit developmental resources. Hubbard then became deputized by the Wayne County Clerk as a wedding officiate and opened a private wedding officiating and vow renewal service called United Vows.

Later, due to unforeseen tragedy, Zsa Zsa witnessed the lack of information and resources available for families of loved ones with incapacitating diseases and health challenges and started the Kelly's Kids Foundation—a resource and advocacy program for families with debilitated loved ones—in honor of her late mother, Kelly Hubbard.

Now, as an Event Moderator, Zsa Zsa uses her gift of engagement to host social, corporate and networking events, commissioning her infectious personality to harvest a one-of-a-kind experience and promote various initiatives in the community.

LYSHON D. DAVIS

Meet Lyshon D. Davis an incredibly resilient woman who overcame significant challenges growing up in the foster care system. She was born into uncertain circumstances and had to navigate the complexities of multiple foster homes. Despite this, she never lost her determination to succeed. Lyshon is originally from Detroit, MI, and the mother of two beautiful daughters, and one granddaughter.

Despite the instability of her childhood, Lyshon discovered her passion for education and excelled while attending Wayne State University. Lyshon is a paralegal and was previously a Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA). Lyshon currently serves as a volunteer Board Member for the Foster Care Review Board in Michigan where she passionately advocates on behalf of foster children.

As an adult, she has found a new purpose in life advocating for foster care reform and utilizing her firsthand experiences to motivate reform and offer support to those who are still going through the foster care system through mentorship.

Lyshon volunteers her time giving back to the orphanage that she once called home, and she is the first resident to become a member of the National Christ Child Society-Detroit Chapter.

Lyshon is the founder of LifeLine Foster Youth Foundation, a nonprofit organization that provides activities that will allow youth in foster care to experience monumental moments of joy while providing them with a sense of inclusivity and normalcy.

Lyshon is a published author of “Healing the Foster Child Within” and shares her story as a keynote speaker for donor fundraiser events. Lyshon’s mission is to bring about change and be a vision of hope while making an invaluable impact on the lives of children.

Lyshon enjoys attending church, bowling, traveling, and spending time with family and friends.

EXPOSURE EQUALS EXPERIENCE

In late spring, 800 students in the Black Caucus Foundation of Michigan's Navigation To Success School Based Life Skills Program who sign a drug-free pledge, are rewarded by spending a day learning about careers in the engineering and construction fields through a variety of speakers and hands-on experiences.

The Construction Science Expo is dedicated to the creation and delivery of educational experience that will improve the economic circumstances and quality of life for Detroit's youth. Over 5,000 youth have been exposed to careers in engineering and construction trades.
